Redwood City Quietly Marks Armistice Day

Some Arms Factories In Europe Observe Brief Respite

Redwood City and San Mateo county joined with the rest of the nation and many other countries throughout the world Wednesday in reverent observance of Armistice day.

With city and county offices, banks, schools and many business houses closed, and practically all stores locking their doors for three hours from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m., city streets had a holiday air of desertion for part of the day as flags from all poles and in front of many stores unfurled their colors.

This afternoon grandstands at Sequoia high school's athletic field were jammed for the annual "big game" between Palo Alto and Redwood City high schools.

Similar crowds were reported at San Mateo, where that city's high school was meeting Burlingame, and Daly City, where Jefferson and South San Francisco high schools were playing their "big game."

Pre-game enthusiasm of Palo Alto students was believed responsible for the smearing during last night with red and green paint of the local football field's scoreboard and bleacher fronts, and Principal A. C. Argo of Sequoia said that Palo Alto's school would be billed for expenses incurred in removing the splotches.

Last night some 500 celebrants of the 18th anniversary of the ending of the World War made merry until 1 a.m. at the American Legion's annual Armistice Eve dance in Belmont. Net proceeds were expected to approximate $75, committeemen said.

Meanwhile, in many other parts of California elaborate celebrations were commemorating the signing of peace, but in the San Francisco bay region attention was given mainly to the fete starting tomorrow to mark opening of the new San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge.

In Los Angeles a parade of 20,000 veterans was halted at 11 a.m. by the sound of taps, blown by buglers stationed along the 15-block line of march. The city's 300,000 school children were given free use of street cars to attend patriotic celebrations.

The scores of thousands of men and women who are making munitions for Europe's next war stopped work for two minutes in those countries where November 11 is observed as Armistice Day.

In Germany, Italy and other countries where Armistice Day is observed on other days, or is not observed at all, the workers kept right on working and gained the two minutes for their armies, navies and air forces, the United Press reported.

Czechoslovakia celebrated the day by acquiring control of one of the greatest arms factories in the world.

Great Britain's observance of Armistice Day was the most impressive. Every possible activity was stopped for two minutes.

In the United States the nation's leaders uttered a new plea for world peace at the tomb of the unknown soldier.

The appeal went to a world stirring with fresh war passions, led by President Roosevelt, Gen. John J. Pershing, Secretary of War Harry Woodring, and other high officials. Tribute was paid to Americans who sacrificed their lives in the World War.

'LAST OUTLAW' PLAYS AT REDWOOD

Harry Carey in "The Last Outlaw," now playing at the Redwood Theatre, together with Robert Taylor's latest starring picture, "His Brother's Wife," featuring Barbara Stanwyck.

'Braille' Will Be Explained

Cowerd Program Also Has Several Other Features Planned

When Mary Cook Cowerd, blind "Nightingale of the South," sings here November 19 under auspices of the Lions Club, also on the program will be acts explaining Braille, the system used by the blind to read, sponsors announced today.

An electric device will give a vivid picture of the Braille alphabet and those who have wondered how the blind can read will then understand, it was said.

Braille books will be on display and all attending will be given a Braille alphabet.

Several other interesting features are planned for the entertainment, which will be given in the Sequoia high school auditorium. Tickets at 50 cents are on sale at Musso's Drug Store.

Dick Foran was a special investigator for a railroad when a talent scout signed him for pictures.

Court Delays Test On Slot Machines

A temporary setback in his court action to prevent two slot machines seized in a roadside cafe from being destroyed was suffered Monday by Atty. John E. Manders when Superior Judge A. R. Cotton refused to sign a writ of prohibition blocking an order for their destruction.

Judge Cotton said that before he would sign such a writ he would discuss the case with the district attorney, questioning whether the coin machines could not be forfeited as a lottery device despite lack of provisions in the penal code for their destruction with conviction of an operator.

Manders seeks the order on behalf of Charles Foley of Redwood City, owner of the devices seized when Demetrius Caracudas' cafe on El Camino Real south of Redwood City was raided by sheriff's deputies.

Palace Market Opens Doors Saturday A.M.

Grand opening of the Palace Super Market, located at 823 Main Street, will take place Saturday morning, beginning at 8 o'clock sharp, it was announced today by Thomas Tuite and Sons, proprietors of the new market.

The store will be one of the most modern in northern California and embodies all of the latest innovations in the food industry.

There will be three complete departments, including meats, groceries, and fruits and vegetables.

The market has a frontage of seventy-five feet on Main Street and an equal depth, giving approximately six thousand square feet of floor space and making all sections of the store easily accessible and convenient for patrons.

The grocery department will be operated under the nationally known Red and White System which makes it possible for independent stores to take advantage of quantity buying methods in order to sell at the lowest possible market prices. A complete stock of groceries will be featured at all times. Mr. Walter Noble will be associated with the grocery department.

The fruit and vegetable department will specialize in fresh produce direct from peninsula and bay area gardens and will have a large variety from which to select.

The meat department, as for the past 30 years will continue to sell only the finest grade of meats, fish and poultry.

The original Palace Meat Market was established in 1906 by Thomas Tuite at the same location and except for a short number of years has been operated by him since that time.

Associated with their father in the business now are Edward Tuite and Thomas Tuite, Jr.

The modernization and re-modeling of the Tuite building was the first and largest project of Redwood City's recent city beautification program and was completed at a cost of more than $6,000.00. It is also the initial step in modernization of Main Street buildings which was advocated by the East Redwood Improvement club in conjunction with other progressive steps which are scheduled to take place in the near future.

New 1937 Ford V-8 on Display Tomorrow

MOST popular car in the entire Ford V-8 line for years has been the Tudor sedan. The 1937 edition is shown above. The smart new front end, new headlamps, V-type windshield and use of the "tear drop" form combine to give what those who previewed it declare to be the most beautiful Ford yet produced. The front seat is full width. Seat back is divided, either section tilting forward. Mechanical improvements include new easy action safety brakes and new "fingertip" steering. The model above is available without de luxe appointments, with either 60 or 85 horsepower V-8 engine. De luxe types are equipped only with the more powerful engine.

The new Ford V-8 will be on display at the Towne Motor Co., Tomorrow.

Newsman Dies At San Mateo

Hugo DeGroot's Long Illness Is Ended As '30' Written

SAN MATEO, Nov. 9—Engaged in newspaper work here for 16 years prior to his enforced retirement 15 months ago because of ill health, Hugo DeGroot, 51, passed away yesterday morning at Mills Memorial hospital, where he had been confined for the past month.

DeGroot, who was city editor of the San Mateo Times and connected with the News Leader before merger of the two papers, had been mining until a month ago, having apparently regained his health by a stay in Arizona and work in California mines. But the strenuous labor broke him again, and he entered the hospital, not to leave until the traditionally journalistic "30" had been entered on the books after his name.

DeGroot, whose only surviving close relative is his son, John Hugo DeGroot, was the grandson of Dr. Henry DeGroot, who was sent to California from New York by Horace Greely to "cover" the discovery of gold in 1849. Fascinated by the wealth being taken from the mines, Dr. DeGroot never returned to the east.

Before coming to San Mateo, DeGroot had worked on newspapers in San Jose and in San Francisco. He was divorced. He lately had made his home with Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Nuinan here. Nuinan is also a Times employe.

Despite the similarity of their unusual names, DeGroot was unrelated to Coach Bud DeGroot of San Jose State College or his brother, Bert DeGroot, one-time Stanford pole vaulter.

Funeral services will be held from the William Crosby parlors at 2 p.m. Tuesday under auspices of the San Mateo Elks lodge, to which he belonged.

Local Youths Find Skeleton On Bay Flats

Gruesome Find Not Far From P.A. Presents Death Mystery

Their first hunting trip will long be remembered by Theodore Jones, 14, and Patrick Fogarty, 17, nephews of Policeman E. G. Fogarty of Redwood City.

The reason is the character of the "take" secured on the Sunday forenoon outing of the pair, who live with their grandmother, Mrs. Francis Van Laura Fogarty, at 111 Melville avenue, Palo Alto.

What the boys got was one duck and one human body, the latter in very bad condition but nevertheless presenting Santa Clara and possibly San Mateo county authorities with a new mystery.

The boys had gone to the Charleston Slough near the Palo Alto Airport. After several hours of hunting, during which they had taken many shots but had brought down only the one fowl, the boys decided to return to their "base" for more ammunition.

Seeking a shortcut, young Fogarty peeled off part of his clothes, the day being balmy, and plunged into the slough to swim over to where extra shells had been cached.

Hardly had he come up from his dive but what should confront him at the edge of some tules but a skeleton. The trousers and feet of the corpse were sticking up, the rest of the body being partly submerged.

Hurrying back to the Palo Alto Yacht Harbor, from where they had taken a scull, the youths reported the grisly find, forgetting in the excitement to bring in the one lone duck they had bagged.

L. E. Doolittle, Redwood City painting contractor, and Harry Mills, keeper at the yacht harbor, brought in the remains.

Psychologists say part of a child's training should be directed toward encouraging powers of adaptability.

Fun in Every Act of Show

Hilarity Is Promised For Showing Here Of 'Gay '90's'

When the curtain rises on "The Gay Nineties," community show to be presented under American Legion Auxiliary sponsorship November 16-17, fun will begin immediately, the first act featuring a mock trial in which Dotty Perkins, played by Dr. C. O. Morse, is suing Casey, portrayed by Mark Ryan, for breach of promise.

The stern judge, John Layng, "so tough he can eat nails and spit battleships," uses everything but sheer brute force to keep order among the jury.

And such a jury! The first member is Fritz Bumblesburgerhorfendorfenstein, the Dutchman, played by L. C. Brown. Fay West (Frank Thompson), Count de Karmel Korn, the Frenchman (Louis B. Dematteis), Hattie Hearmore, the deaf old maid (Howard C. King), Hiram Judkins, the farmer (A. M. Cezar), and Ike Goldberg, the Jew, (Gene Barrett) are also on the panel.

Mrs. Florence Donnelly, general chairman, defies anyone to find a greater assortment for a jury.

Attorney Skin (Floyd Granger) acts as prosecuting attorney and Attorney Take-a-Coin (Robert E. O'Connell Jr.) nobly defends poor Casey.

Fred Musso Jr. assists the judge as clerk of the court and capably escorts witnesses and jurors to and fro. The witnesses are John Gunn (J. H. Chapman) and Claw Hammer (W. E. George).

After hearing the evidence, the judge decides that they are both guilty and orders them hanged, but Casey decides to end it all by marrying the girl. And thus ends the first act.

Details of the second act have not as yet been revealed, but the riotous fun will continue throughout the show, according to Mrs. Donnelly.

$10 Fines Levied On Fire Charges

Two men accused of setting fires without permits pleaded guilty in different courts Tuesday and paid $10 fines each.

Orlando Pearson, 75, appeared before Justice Edward I. McAuliffe in Redwood City while Pay Coyne, 51, was fined by Justice Manuel J. Bettencourt in Half Moon Bay.

Pearson had been arrested by Deputy Fire Warden Ernest Werder Friday in connection with a fire near Woodside and Coyne early Sunday for a Pescadero region blaze.

CRASH DAMAGES SOUGHT

For injuries suffered when her machine collided in Burlingame September 18 with that of Albert Wright, Ethel M. Kraemer has brought suit in superior court against Wright for $1,579 damages. The action was brought through the law firm of Lakin and Leve.

Witt's Action Seen As Move To Annul Vote

Sullivan Warns Board That Returns Must Be Certified

Apparent attempts of Supervisor Albert Witt Jr. at the Monday board session to lay groundwork for an attack on the year's two county elections drew a sharp warning from Asst. Dist. Atty. Daniel E. Sullivan following the meeting that any efforts to thwart canvass of the ballots or certification of the election would not be tolerated.

The attorney, legal advisor to the board, even declared that should a majority of the members not appear daily for the canvass which began Monday, they would be forced to come in even if the sheriff had to be sent for them.

Should any of them later refuse to certify the returns, as it had been rumored they might, charges might be filed under the penal code against them for neglecting their duty, Sullivan hinted.

PARTIALLY CONFIRMED

The reports that Witt and Chairman Manuel Francis, defeated in the elections, might refuse to vote to certify the return, as did Witt in the primaries, were partially confirmed by the two supervisors.

Should they decide on that action, it was considered likely they would be joined by Walter High, thus apparently preventing newly-elected Supervisors Alvin Hatch and James S. James from taking office. The third new board member, Hugh H. Smith, was elected at the August 25 primary.

Witt refused to admit outright that he planned such action. However, he did declare that he was "consistent," indicating he would take action similar to that in the primaries, while Chairman Francis asserted that he "didn't know yet" what he would do.

GUILD SHOWS PRINTS

The Allied Arts Guild Gallery in Menlo Park is now showing photographic studies by Wilson and Catherine Ellis, while the Palo Alto Camera Club, 309 University avenue, Palo Alto, is showing prints of the Telephone Camera Club of Manhattan.

Greater Room, Comfort, Safety in New De Soto

Complete restyling, plus many new comfort and safety features are offered by the latest De Soto.

An improved ventilation system providing draftless air circulation without obstructing vision is incorporated in all models. The seamless steel top extends in one piece from cowl way back to rear belt line, blending into the flowing lines of the car.

Hypoid rear axles permit low, level floors with no obstructions, and the recessed foot support provides greater leg room. Larger car bodies and wider seats allow six-passenger seating comfort in all sedan models. Pictured above is the four-door touring sedan, one of nine body types in the line. All are powered by an entirely new, higher-compression engine.

New De Sotos are now on display at the Showrooms of Oleson & Son, Local Dealers

MENLO PARK NEWS

The Domininca Nuns of Corpus Christi Monastery are erecting a small kitchen wing to their monastery. Foundation for the wing was made at the time the first building was undertaken. When the nuns came here eight years ago, the cellar was adapted to use as a kitchen because of lack of funds to complete the superstructure, but now the cellar has become too damp, both from water rising from the floor and from rains which leak through the temporary roof which replaces the unbuilt superstructure. As the religious order has been warned it runs great sanitary risks by continuing use of the cellar as a kitchen, it has obtained a loan, enabling it to build the small wing originally in the plans for kitchen and laundry purposes. The nuns will very gratefully receive any offerings in aid of this necessary expense.

Edward O'Keefe has arrived home from Willows where he shot the limit in ducks at the Willows Gun Club this week. He is an expert shot and loves the sport of hunting. There is a good flight of birds from the north this season.

On Monday night last at the Hall of the Nativity a reception was given to Mrs. Margaret Gale in celebration of her residence in Menlo Park for 50 years. Miss Katherine Donohoe was chairman of the committee having the affair in charge. About 250, all the old timers of Menlo Park, attended. George Walsh was the master of ceremonies. He paid a tribute to Mrs. Gale for her loyalty and work for her church and community. At the conclusion of the program, Miss Donohoe presented Mrs. Gale with a handsome flower stand containing a number of attractive berries. Mrs. Gale is a native of San Mateo county and has always taken an interest in the peninsula.

Mr. Leroy Taylor was appointed assessor of Palo Alto by the city council Monday night by a unanimous vote. Taylor is a native of Menlo Park and grew to manhood here. His father, the late E. L. Taylor, won fame as the shoer of the famous horses that secured all honors on the American derby in the eighties. Taylor lived on the Stanford farm and was recognized as the best horseshoer of his time. The prospective assessor is a Stanford man and well known on the peninsula.

Mrs. William Belcourt, who passed away last week, was a native of Menlo Park and had resided here all her life. Before her marriage she was Miss Carrie Buelna, whose ancestry dated from the mission days of California. Some years ago the government had appropriated several million dollars to be paid to the Indians of California from whom lands were taken in the early days. Mrs. Belcourt, whose parents were of Indian origin, had proved her claim and was expecting her allotment of $50,000 almost any day. She is survived by her husband and an adopted daughter.

Mrs. Meta Kugeler Coxin, who passed away last Thursday, had been a resident of Menlo Park since 1875. Mrs. Coxin had a large circle of friends on the peninsula who deeply mourn her loss. She was the mother of nine children, four of whom survive her; namely, Miss Meta Kugeler, Menlo Park; Mrs. Emma Parent, Mrs. Ida Denk and Miss Johanna Kugeler, all of San Francisco. The deceased was beloved by all who knew her. The funeral at the Episcopal church Saturday afternoon was largely attended by sorrowing relatives and friends. Mrs. Coxin was greatly admired by a large circle of friends and admirers, and her passing was a shock to all of them. Mrs. Coxin was a native of Germany, aged 89 years.

Betrothal of their daughter, Miss Eileen Barbara Paris, to Mr. John C. Skrabo was announced last Saturday evening by Mr. and Mrs. Fred Paris at an informal party at their Menlo Park home.

The bride-elect is a graduate of Sequoia Union High School. Her fiance, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Skrabo of Portola, also attended Sequoia. He is employed as foreman on the James F. Waters estate in Woodside.

Some 50 friends and relatives were present to compliment the couple Saturday evening and to enjoy dancing, games and a late buffet supper.

The wedding will take place in the late spring.

Mrs. Robert L. Conncanan of Bay Laurel Drive was hostess yesterday afternoon to the contract bridge section of the American Association of University Women. Tea was served at the conclusion of the bridge games. Mrs. Concannan, who is vice president and membership chairman of the state Association of University Women, recently returned from Southern California, where she conducted a training course for local membership chairmen and spoke to chapters in San Diego, Los Angeles, Whittier, and other cities.

A NEW AND MORE GLORIOUS ERA DAWNS FOR SAN MATEO COUNTY

Faster transportation to Central and Southern California, greater industrial development, more wealth, the future home of thousands of new residents, a county pulsating with life and activity . . this is what the opening of the San Francisco Bay Bridge means to San Mateo County.

This great span, linking the Peninsula to the mainland with arms of steel, opens the gates to new opportunities for San Mateo, a county which though still replete with remembrances of the romantic past when this land was a part of the far-flung Kingdom of Spain still is a good place in which to live.

But better than merely being a good place to live in, it is easy to reach with the completion of the San Francisco Bay Bridge.

San Mateo County is a land of pleasing harmonies; of blue lakes and blue skies; of forested and majestic mountains; of tumbling streams and wide, scenic highways; of rich estates and vast gardens; of lovely homes and healthy kiddies; of complete contentment and an abundance of happiness--all within the circling embrace of the placid Bay and the broad Pacific Ocean.

San Mateo County on Friday, November 13, and Saturday, November 14, is co-operating with San Francisco in its colorful bridge-opening parades. If you can do so, attend these festivities . . help to swell the gay throng that will celebrate these historic events.

JAMES URGES ALL TO UNITE IN GOOD GOVERNMENT DRIVE

Declaring that "the most recent elections prove that the majority of citizens are in earnest in their demands for good government," James S. James, newly-elected supervisor of Burlingame, today thanked The Tribune and others in this area for aiding his campaign and urged a unified front by citizens.

James' announcement, in the form of an expression of appreciation to voters for their support, came as defeated candidates Albert Witt Jr., Colma, and Manuel Francis, Half Moon Bay, were believed joining in an attack on the county charter.

James' statement to The Tribune said:

"I find it practically impossible to make personal acknowledgment to many co-workers, for their services in the recent campaign for supervisor from the Fifth district. It is equally impractical to make individual acknowledgment of all congratulatory messages received since election day. I must use the medium of the press and I would particularly like to reach the readers of your newspaper.

"The two recent elections prove that the overwhelming majority of the citizens of San Mateo county are in earnest in their demand for an improved county government. This includes the supporters of all five supervisors who were elected. It includes my opponent Mayor Buck and his many supporters. The five supervisors who were elected all ran on the same platform—that of "Better Government for San Mateo County."

"It seems to me that we are now in a strategic position, and I wish to suggest that all of the forces for good government in the county unite with the object in view of attaining what they have demanded at the polls.

"The election is over, but the price of good government is the continued interest and the eternal vigilance of the forces for good government.

"The new board of supervisors will accomplish more with your help. We bespeak your continued interest and vigilance, your help and your suggestions in all the governmental affairs of your county.

"I wish to extend my personal thanks and appreciation to all who expressed their confidence in me at the polls and to the host of co-workers who interested themselves in my campaign.

"To Mayor Buck and his sup-

Cases of four people facing superior court on various charges were all continued for pleadings Monday. Miss Grace Brown was given two weeks by Judge Maxwell McNutt, who extended Pete Pignoni's time to plead one week. Henry Von Hofwegen was given two more weeks. Trial of Eleanor Barrios, who pleaded not guilty to assault, was set for December 1 before Superior Judge A. R. Cotton.

WPA to Slash Rolls Nov. 1st

Administrative Heads Securing Private Employment

Effective November 30, between 30 and 40 WPA administrative employes in the San Mateo-Santa Clara counties district will be released from district payrolls, it was announced Tuesday by Director W. O. Eddy.

The reduction in personnel was ordered by Assistant State Administrator Ralph G. Wadsworth, who said about three hundred persons in California would be affected—a reduction in personnel of administrative rolls of between 5 and 10 per cent.

Eddy, declining to reveal names of workers to be released, said many had made plans for private employment. Reason for the slash, he explained, was increase in private employment.

He said there were 3960 persons on WPA rolls in this district, including 800 men working at Mills Field, near San Francisco. This is only two-thirds the number who found employment there last year.

WPA does not employ non-relief labor, he pointed out. Workers are certified to WPA rolls by the state relief administration.

Certification is expected to reach a peak, 10 weeks hence, of about 5500, he said. Many are cannery and fruit workers, whose employment has ended but who will return to work in the spring.

Chester Morris claims he never has been ill a day in his life. Yet he has no theory for perfect health.

Jean Parker is learning shorthand so she can work with her writer-husband, George Macdonald.

Accident Survey Begun on Coast As Patrol Asked

HALF MOON BAY, Nov. 11.—A survey of coastside automobile accidents during recent years was being planned by a committee here today as the result of their appointment at this week's meeting of the Western San Mateo County Progressive Association.

The committee was named as part of a movement to secure a full-time state traffic officer for the coastside. Information gleaned from the inquiry will be used to bolster an application to the state for the officer.

On the committee are M. Schaible of Montara, George Dunn, Frank R. Better and J. L. Carter of Half Moon Bay; Mrs. Rose Davis and Mrs. Fred Ross of Sharp Park; and W. J. Large of Princeton.

The association also decided to ask Congressman John J. McGrath to present a bill at the next session of congress for a $6000 appropriation for construction of a breakwater at Half Moon Bay.

Sixteen new members were added to the association, bringing the total to 162. The association was organized seven months ago.

PATERNITY SUIT SET HERE

Time of Miss Celesti Satelli's paternity suit against Bruce K. Sisson will be held in San Mateo county, Atty. Joseph J. Bullock, counsel for young Sisson, said today. On Bullock's motion, a change of venue for the case was granted by San Francisco Superior Court. The unwed girl accuses Sisson of being the father of her child.

Forestry Class Gets First Hand Fire Information

With Roscoe Savage, deputy in County Fire Warden Bert Werder's office, acting as guide, 22 members of the San Jose State College Forestry class Sunday were given first hand information on how to combat a raging forest fire.

In five cars, the group drove around and through the Big Basin-Butano area where the county's most disastrous mountain blaze since the turn of the century a month ago left only a charred waste of what had been 10,000 acres of brush and timber.

In at least four places, the party found the fire still burning in tree stumps.

Camps where the nearly 1,000 firefighters made their headquarters were seen by the group, and the fire trail constructed by the CCC boys, WPA workers and volunteer citizens were inspected as Savage, who himself was on the fire lines and suffered burns about his eyes which are causing him to wear dark glasses, explained how the battle against the fire demon was conducted for two weeks.

• FACTS about the SAN FRANCISCO-OAKLAND BAY BRIDGE

★ The San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge is the largest bridge in the world. It is 8¼ miles long.

★ The Yerba Buena Island Tunnel, 65 feet wide by 52 feet high, through which a four-story building could be towed upright, is the largest diameter bore in the world.

★ The 70,815 miles of cable wire alone are sufficient to encircle the Earth nearly three times.

★ The steel towers with their concrete bases reach a height of 470 and 515 feet above water. The combined structure reaches a maximum height of 752 feet, comparable to a building nearly 60 stories high.

★ An average of 6,500 men are employed in building the bridge. Man hours required are estimated at 54,850,000.

★ The timber used in the Bay Bridge, largely on auxiliary or false-work structures, totaled 30,000,000 board feet, and would build 3,000 five-room lumber dwellings or enough houses for an average town of 15,000 population.

★ The concrete and steel in the bridge is sufficient to build 35 Russ Buildings, San Francisco; 35 City Halls, Los Angeles; or 35 L. C. Smith Buildings, Seattle.

★ The fabricated steel content of the bridge equals 18.3 per cent of all the steel fabricated in the United States during 1933.

★ In 1937 it is estimated that 55,200,000 people will cross the bridge.

★ Its cost, $77,600,000, is the world's greatest bridge investment.

HISTORY in the making . .

San Francisco and Oakland again make history as they dedicate this mightiest of bridges. Sister cities are linked more closely in common benefit—through a great feat of engineering science.

To the food business, also, Safeway has applied modern engineering principles. Safeway, too, has built a "bridge."

Its purpose is to link food production and food distribution more closely . . . eliminate needless wastes of time and money between the farms and your table.

Safeway is endeavoring to serve well the families of San Francisco and Peninsula—by bringing fine foods to them faster, more efficiently, more economically, in the MODERN manner.

Woodsiders Map Land Use Plans In Sunday Meet

Eighty Woodside residents met with staff members of the county planning commission in the Woodside school house Sunday, mapping zoning plans for this district, the second undertaken in the new county-wide zoning movement.

Planning Engineer Ronald Campbell said the opinions expressed by Woodsiders at the meeting showed a desire for a limited and compact business center, with the district being kept largely for residential estates.

Consensus apparently favored an acre-building site in the estate area, Campbell said. In addition, the suggestion was made that a block or half block be set aside for some multiple housing plan.

Two committees will be formed as a result of the session, one to sign up residents in favor of a minimum acreage for residential business sites, and the other to be composed of Woodside representatives to meet with the county planners and go over the completed zoning plans.

The Portola-Woodside valley district is the second undertaken, the district from Redwood City south and with a westerly limit running back of Atherton to the Bear Gulch Lake, having already been zoned.

Mrs. Ida McCarthy Dies in New Jersey

Word received from the East Monday brought news of the death of Mrs. Ida McCarthy, former resident of Redwood City, on October 31 in Lockport, N. J.

After having made her home here at 430 Standish street for 12 years, Mrs. McCarthy went East recently to make her home with a brother, Henry Riegle, at Lockport. After having been ill for some time, she underwent an operation and died nine days later. She had belonged to the Catholic Daughters here.

The deceased was buried at Clarence Centre in New York.
